CONCEPT FASHION IN LOS ANGELES
SPRING SUMMER 2015 COLLECTIONS

OCTOBER 11th | ACE MUSEUM | 400 S La Brea Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90036

“Concept fashion – it’s when music, art & fashion come together as one”

Concept fashion week takes place twice a year.

This season it got a new location at ACE MUSEUM at 400 s. La Brea in Los Angeles.

Concept welcomed 7 designers of runway shows, dance and creative installations.

CM2K designs were also featured on “Germany’s Next Top Model” with Heidi Klum and worn by Nicki Minaj in Alicia Key’s video, This Girl’s on Fire

LA based designer Cheryl Koo and her line CM2K strives to style the world through different avenues of art, music and dance..Her new line, CM2K, is the realization of apparel creations framed within her perspective of world travels and everyday experiences. From gas masks to teddy bears, the work is beyond avant-garde and an awakening message to her customer. It’s an edgy street style with a cozy couture feel. Classy comfort is derived from mixing different luxury textiles, such as, leather and suede, with pleather, nylon and plastics to compliment the comfort and “wear-ability” of black cotton fleece.
